

MINNESOTA - October 2nd 2017 - Coming to the Apple App Store and Android Market in early 2018, the Craftapped mobile app is being developed to improve and simplify the user experience for members, as well as partner establishments.

The long-awaited app will allow members to more easily redeem vouchers on the go using their iPhone or Android. "We have wanted an app for quite some time, but needed to find the right developer" says Keith Reiersen, co-founder of Craftapped. "The first version will be pretty simple, and built around core member functions – but we plan to add new features once the app is up and running."

This is great news for the ever-increasing member base of the local craft beer club, who until now have had to open a web browser and scroll through to redeem their monthly vouchers. The Minneapolis based club has also recently extended into the Duluth/Superior market.

The app will be a free download for members, available in the Apple App Store and Android Market, and will be available in early 2018.

Visit www.craftapped.com to learn more about the local craft beer club, and their list of partner establishments.

For further information visit www.craftapped.com or email info@craftapped.com